HIPPODROME, CIRCUS AND MENAGERIE.

There was a lar of attendance at the circus on Friday night when a very good programme was carried out. The performs ing elephants, the equine midget marvel, the school horse and riding monkey were all exceptionally good. An excellent exshibition of comic juggling was given by the Le Dialland Mr W. H. Ware as the "Bound" ing Jockey" acquitred himself admirably. The pisture Elliott did some fine acrobatic dancing and the Mysere Freezesperformeds wonderful feuist. Monkeflier cave a. tine exhibition on the triple horizontal bars and concluded his part by performing the wonderful long distance somersault. The clowns "Jolly Lee," Roman and Elliott amused the audignee-considerably. Other items were the Six Horse Entree, Smircase Balancing, the Hongarian Dance and the Ambolina Show, "all of which were well received. A very good evening's entertainment concluded with the performing animals, in which Professor Urban seemed to be perfectly at home with half a dozen fine looking lions. 💎

VALUE OF THE IMPERIAL . Japanest estate.

The Jup we Mail finds in the Hochi Shimbon an interesting article containing an"estimate of the property constituting the Imperial Japanese estate. The items are given as follows :--

Pank of Japan 96,660 shares." Industrial Bank ... 10,000 Nippon Yusen Kaisha ...: 80,550 Tokyo Gas Campany : Tokyo Electric Light Fuji Paper Company ... 10,000 Dai Nihon Maline

Kastern Colonization Company 5,000 The total value of the above at present market rates is 95 million yen.

A RECENT SHANGHAL MURDER.

Fuller details of the recent murder of a wealthy Chinaman at Shanghai appear in the local papers just to hand. From these it appears that the victim, whose name was Fong Yuen-chang, a clerk in the China Merchants S. N. Co., and a member of the Chinese Company S. V. C., attended the S. V. C. inspection some few hours before the tragedy. He then went out in company with a man named Zung Tse tsung on husiness. The man Zung, who owns a large shoemaking business in the Native City, is an important figure in the case, for if he were not actually in touch with the deceased when the crime was perpetrated he was one of the last men to be in his company. Zung's story is to the effect that he. left Mr Fong earlier in the evening and went to a ten house in Kiukiang Road, and was therefore unaware of the tragedy. Office Tel. 195. Residence K20. However this may be, it is impossible to give an account of the deceased's movements until he was found in a dying condition close to Louza Police Station with three bullet wounds in his body. "It is supposed that the crime was committed as a sequelite bull feeling between families or individuals. Several "persons have been retained in custody on auspicion.

The murdered man was about 40 years of age and is reported to have been possomed of considerable wealth; for, in addition to his appointment in the China Morchants S.-N. Company, he owned a number of launches and river boats.

The case brought ngainst the Great Northern railroad for reporting, instituted at the direction of Mr Roosevelt, has now Lossimaib need

SCOTTISH LETTER.

EDINBURGE, April 2.

SIR GRORGE M'CRAR. Mr James Patten MacDougall, of Gall anach, is about to retire from the position of Vice-President of the Souttish Local Government Board, and it is understood that the post has been offered to Sir George M'Crao, M.P. The delay in the announcement is believed to be due to a contemplated re-arrangement of the offices and an increase of the staff. This Scottish Department is notoriously undermanned, and should that Town Planning Bill "become law, an every one anticipates, its responsibilities will be increased far beyond its working capacity.

Sir George M'Crae has been closely identified with the municipal and politica life of Edinburgh, and at one time occupied the position of City Tressurer. For over thirty years he was associated with the Volunteer omovement, and is now the Colonel of the 5th Royal Scots. Territorialists. He sat on the Royal Commission on Physical Training for Scotland, and on the War Office Committee on Volunteer Transport. His strong point is finance, and when the Young Scots made up a probable Government under a Scottish Home Kule Chancellor of the Exchequer.

The appointment necessitates his retirement from Parliament, and a vacancy will be caused in the representation of East Edinburgh. Political parties in the WOKOHAMA: M. Asada, Esq. it has long been expected that a post of some kind would be found for so militant business end of all the wirepulling in the North. The seat is looked upon as a safe one, else the Government would not have dared to test the constituency. At the last General Election, the Radical poll was 6,608, and the Unionist 2,432; but it is certain that these figures will be greatly modified in the coming contest. The Unionists have a good candidate in the field, Mr Patrick J. Ford, advocate. He has been before the constituency for some months, and is a convinced Tariff Reformer.

THE TERRITORIALS. The first year of the new Territorial Army ended on 31st March, and although official figures are not available, there have of late been daily reports in the newspapers of the progress of the recruiting, and a fairly close estimate can be made of its. actual strength. The boom in Scotland started much later than in England; in the cities it has not lasted more then a month, and it has not yet reached some of the outlying districts. On the 25th February, the last date for which we have an official a return, there was the shortage of 15,066 men in Scotland the percentage of strength in the Highlands being 72.3, and in the Lowlands 70.2, The Lowlands, indeed, were at the bottom of the list for the whole country, their unfavourable position being commented upon by Mr Baldane in the House of Commons. That deficiency has now been greatly reduced, and is believed it cannot be more than 4,000. The shortage s greatest in the ranks of the infantry The establishment of the artillery, yeamanry, and engineers is either complete; or so near completion that the officers wil accept none but select men, and advise all others to join the foot battalions. A healthy rivalry existed between Edinburgh and Glasgow, and the Western city is pluming itself on having got the largest percentage, - Glasgow is about 266 men below establishment, and Edinburgh requires close on 500. The comparison, however, is scarcely fair to the Capital: it has to contribute 6,000 men, and Glasgows with three times the population, only 10,000. This is one of the anomalics of the scheme which will have to be considered in the near future. The commanding officers express themselves as confident that the gaps will be filled up in good time for the annual training camps. "

A prominent member of the Edinburgh Association reports that among the recruits there has been absolutely no class distinction, and men in every grade of society are harmonising in the best fashion. We are particularly impressed with their quality-They are a well set-up body of young men,. full of enthusiasm, and determined to learn their work. They realise that they are not going to play at soldiers, duty has been at the back of their volunteering. and absolutely no compulsion has been exercised."

Mr Haldane's idea, was that men of various trades should join those arms or the service where their acquired skill would prove valuable. The recruits however, do not seem to look at the matter in 111 the same light. One officer says that men have told him that their idea in joining a particular arm was to got as far away aspossible from the work with which they wore associated in every day life, an engineer, instead of joining a technical unit, would join the infantry, and so on. This officer's experience is a familiar one. Undoubtedly, a great deal of civilian skil is going to waste in the Territorials. No one suggests a remedy, except that of compulsory service, and power to allot the legislas att. recruits to the corps in which they would trollers of the world's supply of threadwhose rise to wealth and power is one of the fromances of modern industrialism. Her great-grandfather, "the founder of the thread dynasty," was Mr James Coats, whe began business in 1828 in a building which was sixty feet long, the machinery being driven by a solitary twelve-horsepower engine, His two sons, l'eter sud Thomas, carried forward his success, and soon out-distanced all rivals. In the present day, the Coats Company (it is really a. combine) employs dver ten thousand e workers, and a movement in the shares wonds a flutter through the Stock Exchange. In addition to the establishment at Paisley, they have flourishing factories in the United States and in almost every European country, including Russia, - factories which are rendered necessary, of course, by the existing tariffs hostile to this country. On her mother's side, the bride is descended from Mr Adam Black, one of the greatest of our Edinburgh publishers, Lord Provost and member of Parliament for the city. Mesers A. and C. Black, as the firm was called, made their first big coup in 1827 by purchasing the copyright of the "Encyclopaedia Britainica" from the Constables; and in 1851 they made another hit by acquiring the copyright of all Sir Walter Scott's works. They were also connected with the Edinburgh Review, The Blacks were relatives of Mr Tait another publisher, whose Tait Manazine was one of the , first high-class popular periodicals issued in the country.

SIR WILLIAM MACGREGOR

The newly appointed Governor of Queeus land, Sir William Macgregor, is one of the few members of the medical profession, who have made their mark in the Colonial Service. But then, as has been pointed out, he is a Scot as well as a doctor. He was educated at Glasgow and Aberdeen Universities, and among his Scottish degrees are N.D of Aberdeen, L.L.D: of Aberdeen and Edinburgh, and L.R.C.P. of Edinburgh. He received his first lessons in organisation in the medical institutions of Abardeen and Glasgow, and riported his experience in the Seychelles and the Mauritius. After that, his administrative abilities were more fully recognised, and he was nominated to several important posts. It was Sir William who proclaimed Queen Victoria's sovergienty over New Guines, and he represented the West African Colonies and Protectorates at King Edward's coronation.

"BLESSED" DUNFERMLINE. The work of the Carnegie Trustees at Dunfermline, who have an income of £25,000 a year, attracts much notice in foreign lands. Last year, Mr. T. Namae, commissioned by the Home Department, Japan visited the town, and a letter has been Preceived from Mr Nakayama, Secretary to the Department, in which he says, - ! I felt it was my duty to introduce to the people of lour country the wonderful rate of development of public works in Dunfermline. I translated, therefore, some parts of the report, and, taking for my own information Dr Patrick Geddes' work, "A Study of City Development,' I contributed a small work to the Shimin, semi-official magazine, which I send you now in token of my thanks. "If the Service will allow it, it is my hope to visit the blessed town of yours, where everything is so arranged as

I had eczoma for WINES, SMOKES, seven months, and tried many things without benefit until I took your remedy. After the eighth bottle I was quite well again. Please accept this letter as a token of gratitude to your wonderful "Clarke's Blood Mixture." -June

IMPURITIES IN THE BLOOD,- We have seen hosts of letters from all sorts and conditions of people, in which the writers seknowledge, the benefit they have received from Clarke's Blood Mixture, which as a curative agent cannot be too highly estimated, since it cleanses and clears the blood from all impurities, and restores it to its normal condition. This is a good testimonial from the Family Doctor, the popular medical weekly, which goes on further to say:
It is certainly the finest blood purifier that science and skill have brought to light, and we can with the utmost confidence recommend it to our subscribers and public generally,"

THE CHINA ASSOCIATION.

LIGHT DRY $12.00 | Ir will have been noted by the special report printed by us last evening from the pen of our London correspondent. that the Committee of the China Association in England'is keeping in excellent touch with affairs in the Middle Kingdom. The report presented by Sir Cuarles Dunction was, as usual, a very comprehensive resume of the situation and GREEN SEAL CAPSULE 18.00 touched upon nearly every matter of vital importance which has come up for exploited she would place herself twelve months. Referring to the deaths her, to free herself from all anxieties of the Emperor and Empress Downger regarding railway building. But at the passing of Ordinance No 5 of 1888. last November Sir CHARLES expressed present ther leading men are too much the opinion that the name of the EMPRESS-Downgen would go down to posterity as one of the most" remarkable and renowned potentates in the history of the world. Of this there can be little doubt and when the mists which still cling. thickly around the Chinese Court shall have cleared away a little and time has allowed historians to bring her powerful personality within proper focusing range, the verdict of Sir Charles, a very astute observer, will, we imagine, be more than confirmed. We note that the Chairman of the China Association went on to observe :- The succession | the Magistracy to-day. they had witnessed was seemingly penceful, but the promise of progress and reform was rudely shaken by the dismissal of Yuan Shin-kai and they looked to the future to develop the real policy of the present administration, But does it not strike Sir Chances that perhaps Yuan Sum-kar has been rather overrated by the foreign community, and that the Chineso rulers have taken a juster measure of the man? Cortainly the Chinese with whom we have discussed the question of Yuan Sum-KAI's character and ability were not the preacher. prepared to rate him anywhere so highly as Tano Shao-ri. But per-and ex-Vicercy of Child, who happens to be a native of Anhui.

Naturally the recent Commission on the Opium question which sat at Shanghai, came in for more than passing reference and Sir Changes expressed regret at the withdrawal of the British pointment at China's inability or failure to produce trustworthy evidence. That represented to his mind, he said, the crux of the situation. "These of them who know the Chinese methods of obscuration smiled at the House of Com mons statement that they must act up to the standard set by the Chinese Government, As a matter of fact China evinced little more than Oriental interest in the question, and they should be made aware that they prosperous life lies before the youngest 9 p.m.—Performance of Hippodrome must make up their mind that no one Princess in Europe.

received by . Chief Paymaster, Army fear they will fall on deaf cars. Other matters touched upon by the perennial questions of the piracy Goods per Austria undelivered after this trade marks in Japan and Korea, the ever, caused "serious foreboding" eventual financial disaster for the Chinese empire; and the railway and mining 11 a.m. Lauction of Nernat Electric situation. Sir Charles, we read, complained that in regard to the railways China showed many evidences of lack in 1912. of good faith and, in regard to mining, enterprise in that direction was at present practically impossible owing to Chinese obstruction. This, again, is an old, old tale, but nevertheless it cannot be ommitted in any impartial review of the present situation in China. Water constantly dropping will wear away the hardest stone. Perhaps these constant May 1st, 1909. reminders from the outside world that reform is urgently needed will gradually impress themselves upon the adamantine crust of conservatism which en- | Queen Dowager Margherita to Japan, has shrouds the average" Chinese official. THE BABY PRINCESS

A feeling of profound thankfulness must purvade Holland and the possessions of the Dutch Crown to-day. The long desired, engerly expected, forvently prayed for Heir to the Throne of the Notherlands has appeared at the Hague, and according to the usual formula, which we trust is absolutely true in the present case, " mother delegates' resolution expressing disap- and child are doing well." After the disappointments of pravious years this happy result calls for all the more sincere congratulations. The Dutch worship their gentle, little Queen: they have shared her hopes to the full, and for months most elaborat proparations have been under way in al the lands which acknowledge the sway the House of Orange, to fittingly welcome the little stranger: If the good wishes of all the world, the prayers of a singularly united nation, and the love of her own family go for anything, then the little Princess of Orango-Nassau has come into the world richly dowered. The "offering our congratulations we leave to express the hope that a long and

RAMBLING NOTES.

Like his immediate predecessor, our present Governor is keen on seeing Volunteer movement becoming a vital interest for the youth and manhood of the Colony. The memorandum which Sir. Frederick Lugard has recently issued, the letter and speeches of Sir Henry Berkeley and the Hon. E. A. Hewett should all tend to arouse the Colony to a proper sense of the situation. Of rourse there will be some response, but I fear nothing, like what the Governor hopes to see.

The trouble is there are not sufficient commissions floating around. Now"if the Powers that be could guarantee that each now voluntoer recruit really did carry tield marshal's baton in his knapsack, and that a commission lay, say at the und of a year's toil and moil in the ranks, why every man Jack in the Colony would take' the outh of allegianco. I know that it is impossible in this faulty world of ours for an army to be entirely composed of officers. Still there it is that is the sole and might onvy.

Our old friend Abdul Hamid -Abdul the Damned, Mr W. T. Stead once, in an excess of aplenetic had taste, called him-has submitted to his deposition very quietly. thought he would have put up a better fight than he did. But, stay, is he only laying low, like Brer Rabbit, to the eventual overthrowing of his enemies ! I mus say he never had my sympathies and quite agree with the late Lord Salisbury, indiscreet though the remark might have been coming from his lips, that when we supported the Turk against the Russian we were backing the wreng horse.

But much water will run beneath the bridges. I imagine, ere the Turk retires from, Europe. The Russian Tears, it is well known, have always cherished the hope o one day lording it over Constantinople. One of their ancestors married the on daughter of the last Emperor of Byzantiun and that, they say, constitutes their claim to be considered the rightful rulers of the city on the Bosphorus. Besides, the mighty Church of San Sophia, now a Mahommedan mosque, is an ever-present inducement, to Greek Catholics to expel the Turk from Eurspe. But it will not come in our time. L imbigine.

An esteemed correspondent writes me _ .. Some folks who ramble round "fine themselves liable to change of ideas with change of surroundings. The long seavoyage has much to answer for in thi acspect. Take as an instance the case three roving ramblers who lately arrived is our midst. whe started from Home with the fixed intention of marrying the man she was sugaged to on reaching Hongkong. He was in the North of China and according ly rambled down here, full of happy ant cipations, to meet her. So far so good, But there was the Testium Quid, whom She met on the way out. Another of my correspondents this week is our old friend Dr Wilder. Approaching Kobe he was moved to write some post cards. The one which came to me tinished up : "It is pleasant to sit on the deck'and do nothing: Hope to see you all again in November." Hongkong re-echoes that hope, but the spectacle of the stronuous Amos P. Wilder doing absolutely nothing and taking pleasure in it. causes one to think.

That' was rather a pawky story the Scotman got off the other day and I hope none of my Calcdonian friends will object to my reproducing it for their benefit. The yarn runnoth : He was a cautious, middle aged wooer, and, with certain reservations, he had bestowed his mature affections on the Minister's cook? He had satisfied himself as to her suitability in all respects. with the exception of one important point, and that was giving him a good deal of mental disturbance; he felt that the question of "tocher" must be definitely cleared been in good demand, and sales have been up before he committed himself irretrievably." On bluntly asking her how she was off for "siller," his prospective funcce rather cast a chill over his intentions by admitting that she had little in the world beyond the contents of her, "kist." However, anxious to make the best of her prospects, "she volunteered the cheering information that she had a rich auntio-"wi' a cough." "Aweel, Jean," remarked her lover, after eliciting some details regarding the auntie - and the cough "Wo'll just say neathing the noo. It's exist with any feelings of security, for I observe that at last a much-talked-of proposition has taken on practical shape and that the hard-headed, unemotional class of the community, unmarried men, are to be really taxed. No. dear Colonial, it does not apply to Hongkong as yet, so you may breathe freely. Bulgaria's administrators are the culprits. The Sobranje, at the instance of an Opposition Deputy, has passed a law compolling all bachelors over thirty years of ago to pay an annual fax of ten francs, which, with local additions. really amounts to about sixteen france a year: Curiously endush, the law was adopted unanimously .- But the matter does not end here, for opposition has been raised in the ancient expital, Tirnovo. where an old custom provides that on the first Monday in Lent all, young men who have not married during the Carnival season are thoroughly well beaten with pig's bladders by their comrades. To be taxed only reason why Voluntoering is not and beaten as well for their bachelorhood popular in Hongkong.
